RETAINING WALLS

The inherent beauty of the RockyWall Retaining Wall system is unsurpassed by any other segmental block wall available today - matched only by far more labour intensive, time consuming and expensive stone veneer walls. But RockyWall is more than just a pretty face - it can be used as a replacement for even the most demanding retaining wall applications. Plus, the simple, quick, easy construction method and lower overall costs means RockyWall Retaining Walls are "The Best Retaining Walls On Earth".

The Best Retaining Wall On Earth!

I found RockyWall very easy to install right from the start. Because the wall units are lighter than other retaining walls and cover more area it went up quickly and with less effort. I personally liked the fact that RockyWall has less built-in batter, so it creates a more vertical wall. The material, as manufactured was of excellent quality, and the finished wall looked stunning. Based on my years of experience in construction and landscaping I would definitely recommend RockyWall to anyone.

RockyWall Retaining Walls are manufactured using labor intensive wet-cast integrated staining techniques. This produces a unique natural rock like face which allows us to create a retaining wall unlike any other retaining wall you have ever seen. The effect is that of a real 'rocky' wall that has been laboriously hand crafted with real stone chiseled straight out of the local quarry.
