spring 22

behind the season.

"spring is always a point of newness and rebirth in the basic seasonal calendar – shedding the layers of winter, with a new outlook as we move into the warmer months.

the inspiration for spring 22 stemmed from looking at vintage varsity menswear and technical sportswear shapes and finding a way to rework these in a modern, wearable way. four key elements inform each collection – proportion, fit, construction and details, alongside luxurious and tactile fabrications predominantly sourced from italy.

this season is all about boxy and oversized silhouettes, deliberately designed to be cinched in at the waist, slouchy through the rise and tapered at the ankles. other details like contrast internal fabrications, signature topstitching and new fabric developments are built into every individual style to make it feel new and fresh.

this collection delivers all the classics for your wardrobe – the boyfriend shirt, the slip dress, the throw-on trench, the manstyle suit and more – with athletic details and contemporary shapes that will easily see you through this season and many more to come."
