Newton Running Elite is an elite running and racing team supported by Newton Running. Team members race in Newton Running shoes over any terrain and distance, and do so at a highly competitive level many have families, full-time jobs and commitment to their local communities. Newton Running Elite strives to support its athletes by providing an environment where runners of all ages can reach new heights and aspire to run their best.

“We are extremely proud to be a part of journey for Fernando, Amanda, and Tyler. For several years, they have been part of the Newton Running family and we wish them the best in their race on Saturday,” said Yo Schmidt, Director of Athletes & Events at Newton Running.

A favorite shoe of elite runners and triathletes worldwide, Newton Running launched in 2007 with the goal of helping to make every stride better. Newton Running’s patented Action/Reaction™ Technology creates a responsive, trampoline-like cushioning system that provides quicker bounce-back and loses less energy than a traditional foam-core running shoe. The level platform aligns with the human body and puts a runner in a position to run most naturally and efficiently. Newton Running shoes are sold at specialty running stores around the world, as well as select online distribution partners and www.newtonrunning.com
