THINKING MARBLE-OUS

For generations the Vanelli family has owned two marble quarries in the Carrara area of Paonazzo, Bardiglio and Statuario. Fiammetta Vanelli is the female heir of this extraordinary heritage, the feminine declination of a long family tradition. The history of our marble began in 1818, when Duchess Maria Beatrice d'Este granted the Vanelli family the right to excavate the white marble of Carrara. In 1936 Fiammetta's grandfather acquired the quarry nr. 67 owned by the family, called Zona Mossa, in the Bettogli mount and since 2011 the Vanelli family also owns the quarry nr. 66 Poggio Silvestre.

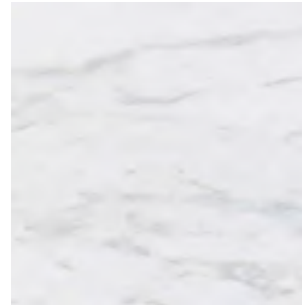

The company is characterized not only by the supply of slabs and blocks of the precious materials from the quarries and of foreign marbles but it is also specialized in raw material processing and in the creation of design objects and home furniture. Our craftsmanship and hand manufacturing are essential to any of our totally made in Italy production. The project of FiammettaV Home Collection brings the nobility of an extraordinary stone into everyday life, creating objects of common use and using the signature of international designers.
