French artist duo Kolkoz were inspired by Jean Prouvé's demountable house for their contribution to Bally's year-long travelling art exhibition Form Scratch.

building BRIDGES

Of course there's an inextricable link bridging architecture, design and fashion, and sometimes the shared qualities are irresistibly literal. In fashion terms, the Japanese triumvirate of Rei Kawakubo, Yohji Yamamoto and Issey Miyake have long been known for the architectural qualities of their clothes. Architects occasionally dabble in furniture (see Zaha Hadid's latest range for Italian brand Citco), and Swiss accessories label Bally is behind the travelling exhibition Form Scratch, which includes an installation by French art duo Kolkoz, inspired by Jean Prouvé's iconic demountable house Maison des Sinistrés. And then there are the irresistibly literal... from Jeff Leatham's skyscraper-like 'Kylie' vase to a Seletti dish rack in the form of Manhattan. For more information on the products featured on this page, see Sources, last pages.
