

CLOTHES CIRCUIT CONSIGNMENT CONTRACT
CONSIGNING DALLAS' FINEST SINCE 1983

Clothes Circuit gives preference to women's current season top designer labels and contemporary brands. Clothing should be less than 2-years-old, sized 0-2X and in good condition. If your items are found to have stains, pet hair or other problems after they are consigned, we will call or email you. If an item is likely to have been priced $100 or more and found to be damaged, we give you the option of picking it up in a week's time. Items discovered to be in unusable condition that we would price under $100 are donated to The Family Place without notice.

You receive 70% of selling price for any item selling for $500 or more.

You receive 60% of selling price for any items selling for $250 to $499.

You receive 45% of selling price for any item selling for $31 to $249.

You receive 40% of selling price for clothing that we originally price at $30 or less.

A processing fee is assigned to each item at time of purchase and paid by the customer.

You may make purchases in the store at any time using your account balance. If you have $100 or more in your account, we will mail you a check mid-month. At the end of each season, we will send a check to you if the amount reaches $50 or more. Lesser amounts may be used as store credit or you may come to the consignment desk weekdays for cash payment 60 days after your consignment date.

Our store offers a unique season-long consignment term for Designer and Fashion Edge (contemporary fashions), fine jewelry and accessories. We are able to sell 96% of those goods we receive, and no item ever becomes our property. Should you not wish to advantage of our season-long consignment, we ask that you retrieve your items from the sales floor within 60 days from the consignment date. Staff is available to pull luxury accessories for you, but we do not allocate staff time to retrieve your other items. If you would like to retrieve these pieces, come to the consignment desk and we will provide you with a list of remaining items on the floor.

We will no longer offer a retrieval option on items we initially price under $30.

Given the phenomenon of mall and department stores dramatically slashing prices on lesser priced merchandise, we must handle and promote that inventory differently.

Any unsold items left at the end of the season will be DONATED TO THE FAMILY PLACE in your name and you may request a donation receipt.

WE DO NOT INSURE OR ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR LOSS OR DAMAGE.

Thank you for choosing Clothes Circuit. We strive to exceed your expectations.
