LORE DINIG TABLE

ABOUT

When different elements come together, that's where things get interesting. (Just think of your favorite dinner party guest list, or the signature salad you serve.) It's certainly true of our LORE table. It starts with two elements: solid wood and brass. But it's how they come together—at the corners, where the legs, apron and top meet with a series of small setbacks and each part is set firmly in place by brass dowels—that's greater than the sum of its parts. Soft edges with bold dimensions and crisp lines combine to make this table a classic beauty that adds elegance to any space.
