

LORE DRESSER

ABOUT

What you put inside may change with the season, but our LORE dresser is designed to be truly trendless. Each deep, roomy drawer is constructed with classic butterfly joinery, creating a substantive and sophisticated piece that only improves with age. Its solid-wood construction creates a continuous woodgrain around the perimeter of the piece—a subtle nod to the craftsmanship and elemental nature of the entire LORE collection—which is punctuated by our signature brass pulls. Side panels are set into Dado slots in the legs, letting the piece naturally expand and contract without compromising its form. Soft-close drawer slides glide effortlessly day after day—think of it as always having that "new clothes feeling".
