NOMAD SIDE TABLE

ABOUT

A little piece that's prepared to go a long way. Like all the styles in our NOMAD collection, the side table was designed to be broken down and re-assembled when it's time to move—its solid-wood tapered legs attach to the top bars with wedged tenon joinery, which connect to the tabletop using metal-to-metal joinery that never strips or wears down. So no matter how often you have to call the moving company, this piece still goes back together with the same intuitive ease—and you always have a place to rest the things you reach for most.
