

JACOB MAY

HUDSON CUTTING BOARDS

ABOUT

The original product that launched the Jacob May brand, these simple yet stunning boards display the beauty of wood in the most dramatic way. The logo-embossed brass piece at the end of each board features a pocket in the back that allow these eminently functional pieces to be hung on a single screw and displayed as works of art when not in use. Finger grooves at either end allow for easy handling. White oak may patina over time, especially when it comes in contact with water and steel. Keep your board well oiled and the self healing properties of the "end grain" surface will allow its beauty to endure for many years to come.
