

How do I know my size? Our measuring tape

When printing the measuring tape, make sure the print-out is scaled to 100%. Cut the tape out along the lines and loosely place it around your wrist. This gives you the right size and you can be sure your bracelet will fit when it arrives. If it doesn't, we'll be more than happy to exchange it right away.

To check the accuracy of your printout, position a credit card under the line below. The scale is correct if the credit card and line length match.

Alternatively, you can, of course, use any other measuring tape. In case you don't have one, just take a piece of ribbon or cord, loosely wrap it around your wrist, then use a ruler to measure the length.

What width to choose?

We don't don't create bracelets for women or men, we create bracelets for wrists. 6 mm (Skinny) or 8 mm (Bold), it all depends on whether you prefer your jewellery to be more discreet or more prominent.

One note: The openings of our 001-Bases are slightly tighter than those of our 002-Base. If you have a bigger wrist, we recommend to get a larger size. Better safe than sorry.
