TIPS & TRICKS

CULTURAL SENSORY PLAY

- Ensure that play dough and Eco Cutters are stored in a dry, cool place. Dough that isn't too sticky makes for beautiful creations!
- Our cultural Eco Cutters are intricately designed! To achieve the full imprint, rolled out dough should be 1-1.5 cm (~.5 in) thick.
But, shhhh! Don't tell your little ones! Part of sensory play, cognitive development, hand-eye coordination practice, and fine motor skills development is allowing them to figure this out for themselves. Plus, it keeps them entertained for hours!
- We know how satisfying it is to peel the dough around the cutter once it's been stamped into rolled out dough. This still creates beautiful outcomes, though we find more consistent creations when we stamp the dough, lift the cutter, and then remove the residual dough around the gorgeous patterns!
- Use a toothpick or a pencil to push out any stuck dough or clay in the more intricate Eco Cutters.

HAPPY PLAYING AND CREATING!

BAKING

- Dip your Eco Cutter into flour or cooking oil before using sticky dough or clay to achieve a clean cut out and imprint.
- Our cultural Eco Cutters are intricately designed! With a bit more effort and patience, you can get the shapes and designs onto your dough. After baking, use colored icing to bring these to life!
- Clean our eco products with cold, soapy water only. Do not place in the dishwasher or hot water as our biodegradable products will begin to melt. See our Clean & Care guide for more information.

MORE ECO CUTTER FUN

- Invite your little friends to fill their chosen Eco Cutter up with dried flower petals, colored waterbeads (under the supervision of an adult), or naturally dyed uncooked rice!
- Place Eco Cutters on the ground or butcher's paper and fill with naturally dyed rice flour or powder, and then lift to see your beautifully stenciled artwork!
- Create hanging ornaments out of air drying clay. Be sure to dip the Eco Cutters in flour or cooking oil to avoid the clay sticking to the cutter.
- Use our Eco Cutters alongside their matching TIMBER TILE to enhance the learning and story telling experience with your little ones!
