Privacy knobs are lockable but do not have a keyed cylinder. They are generally used on bedrooms and baths.*

Double cylinder deadbolts enhances security by requiring a key for locking and unlocking from both the exterior and the interior of the property. For doors that have glass panels or adjacent windows within an arm's reach, an intruder could unlock the door by breaking the glass and reaching inside. Since a double cylinder lock have no thumb-turn lever, intruders cannot reach inside to unlock doors manually through broken windows. However, in an emergency, you'd have to find your key before being able to unlock the door and escape.*
