

This drawing image is saved at A3 size which is very close to the quarter imperial size Graham paints at usually.
We have split the image in two so that anyone with an A4 printer can print the image out at full size and join the two halves together before tracing on to your watercolour paper.

This drawing image is saved at A3 size which is very close to the quarter imperial size Graham paints at usually.
We have split the image in two so that anyone with an A4 printer can print the image out at full size and join the two halves together before tracing on to your watercolour paper.

Equipment and materials list.

A watercolour palette (or a white ceramic plate), with a large mixing area.

Half imperial drawing board (to stretch paper on),
or a water-colour block (minimum size 14" x 10").

Paper: Arches or Saunders (Half imperial - Rough or Cold pressed) 140lb (needs to be stretched) or 300lb

Brushes: Any synthetic brand
1" Flat - short handle
Round size 16 - short handle
Round size 10 - short handle

Winsor & Newton Artist Quality Watercolor tube paints (or equivalent):

Quinacridone Gold
Winsor Lemon
Permanent Rose
Permanent Alizarin Crimson
Cobalt Blue
Cerulean Blue
Winsor Violet and Winsor Green (Blue shade).

Additional items:

0.7mm propelling pencil HB or B
Putty rubber
Water spray bottle
Small water-colour sketchbook
Notebook
Hair drier
Gum strip for stretching paper
Rule
Masking tape

Digital camera or smartphone to photograph work in progress.