Product care

This product is respecting craftsmanship and manufacturing techniques. Any irregularities of "destroyed" shading of colors or details are not to be considered as a defect but rather characteristics of the craftsmanship performed.

Use warm water and a brush to remove dirt from your boots, dry with a cloth. For heavily soiled areas apply a leather cleaner. Wipe cleaner away with a damp cloth and wait for the leather to dry. Apply leather grease to your uppers with fingers, or cloth. Remember to re-condition regularly to keep the leather healthy. End your love and care with a leather protector to provide a shield against dirt and moisture.

Always treat your product respectfully and make sure your boots gets the necessary rest. Wearing the same shoes every day is really hard on them and could affect the longevity despite the high quality they are crafted in. If the leather is not allowed to completely dry out in between usage it will make the leather porous and might even possibly cause stress on the seams on the inside of the boots, which will eventually make them weaker and in worst case even to tear long before they should.

We recommend that you closely follow the care instructions which will help preserve the unique spirit of each product. It is necessary to handle this product with maximum care.

In the process which makes every product totally unique we take pride in contributing to the mission of safe work conditions.
