

Teak | Product Care

KANNOA teak requires little to no care and when left outdoors, will turn a handsome silver-gray. This process will take approximately nine months, depending on the amount of sunlight and rain exposure.

- Clean teak furniture with a soft bristle brush or sponge. Water spots or other discoloration may also occur during the weathering process. These will even out, and the furniture will achieve a uniform silver-gray.
- Periodically cleaning your teak furniture with a solution of four parts laundry detergent or dish washing soap and one part bleach in water. Use a soft bristle brush to clean your furniture. When you are finished, rinse the entire piece to remove the dirt and any remaining solution. This is sufficient for general cleaning.
- A teak conditioner will protect the furniture's original color, but will have to be reapplied every three months. Oiling outdoor teak may cause mildew or irregular coloring.
- Teak has oil that occurs naturally in the wood. Expect some of this oil to bleed out following the first few rainfalls. In order to protect your cushions, bring them inside before the furniture gets wet.
- Stains from teak oil are not covered under warranty.

Metal Frames

- Apply clear automobile wax for maximum protection against harmful ultraviolet exposure and salt air.
