Biography : Facebook Page: Back 2 the Basics
Available to conduct classes for large or small groups. As a Military Policeman, an Administrative Specialist, a reserve soldier, a fast food employee, a store clerk, a real estate agent, a secretary, a police dispatcher, a jailer, a civil clerk, a call center coordinator, a special needs para-educator and finally a Deputy Sheriff in a county jail; I have been there done and seen that. There have been many unpaid life assignments I have embraced such as wife, mother, mentor, teacher, coach, friend, leader of youth, and life counselor. These have been the most rewarding and treasured. I now wish to share my experiences and hard learned knowledge with as many people as possible. My motto has become Back 2 the Basics. We have cluttered our lives with so many things, tangible and metaphorically, that stress has become a way of life. In the words of an exercise guru of the 80s, bStop the Insanity!b've spent the time and money to become a Facilitator of the Parenting with Love & Logic Curriculum. Which means I believe I have something to share. I have spent many years of my life listening to and observing people and the choices they make. My goal is to share as many ideas and words of wisdom from my heart as I can. I believe I used the Love and Logic approach even before I was officially introduced to the program, it just makes sense.

Biography : My husband and I have six children b four boys and two girls ranging in age from 10 to 22 years old. I was first introduced to Love and LogicB. parenting techniques in 2003 by enrolling in a parenting workshop. I saw so many benefits from using the skills through good and bad times in my own home. In 2005, my husband Brent was diagnosed with cancer. Needless to say our family went through a lot of changes during our battle with this disease. Those periods where he was in remission were the easiest but, with the skills we had learned, we were able as a family to communicate and work together through those times of illness. In 2012, Brent became unable to work and provide financially for our family and I began my training as life coach in order to assume that responsibility. My heart was drawn to life coaching and it seemed only natural to include facilitating Love and LogicB. classes as part of that decision. Even now, since his passing, I can use my Love and LogicB. skills to maintain a loving environment in our home while still setting limits and holding them. I love working with parents and families to learn and implement these skills in their own homes!

Biography : I fell in love with Love and Logic in 2006 and have been teaching classes ever since! As a mom with 4 grown girls of my own (plus a Foster HS daughter), I know that Love and Logic works! Combining my personal experience with the stories from over 2000 parents/teachers taught since 2006, I am more convinced than ever that there is no better way to parent or teach!! You will laugh, you will learn, and you will find ways to use love and logic daily! I have BS in Child Development and Masters in Human Resource Leadership. Depending on the curriculum/length of class, prices vary from free to $80. Many times child care is included. I would love to have you join me for my next class!!
