Biography : I am passionate about helping families build and maintain happy and healthy relationships. I have my bachelor's degree in psychology and my master's degree in counseling. I have worked as a school counselor since 2006, and as a Love and Logic trainer since 2011. I am the mother and stepmother of two wonderful sons. My husband and I blended our families when our boys were just 3 and 4, now they are young men! As a parent and a school counselor, I have opportunities every day to put the principles of Love and Logic into practice. I feel so fortunate to be a Love and Logic trainer, and to have the opportunity to share these principles with parents in our schools, churches and the community, as well as with my colleagues in education. It brings me such joy to witness the positive impact Love and Logic has on families.

Biography : I am a mom of four adult children and a grandmother to four grandsons. I was a fourth-grade teacher for 11 years after raising my children. When we moved to San Diego, I became the Director of a preschool. I currently am an Adjunct Professor in the School of Education at Jessup University. I have taught Love and Logic to parents and teachers for over 15 years. Everywhere I teach, I share the tenets of Love and Logic because they work! I am here to share what I have learned through my mistakes and through my successes. I can teach in person, via Zoom, or one-on-one.

Biography : I am an instructional aide for a local charter school and have the honor and privilege of being a Love and Logic facilitator. I'm passionate about empowering others to develop skills to be the best they can be and bring out the best in each other while offering grace in the process of learning and growing. I've been practicing Love and Logic on my three children since they were ages 2, 5 & 8. They are currently 11, 14 & 17. I also have the privilege of working with children ages 5-14 in classroom and playground settings daily. Love and Logic has taught me the power of connection, communication and boundaries with both children and adults alike and I'm thrilled to introduce you to the many tools available to improve your relationships with the children in your life.

Biography : I found Love and Logic when my son was 7 and our relationship was going downhill--fast! It made such a huge difference in my family that I trained with the Fays in order to offer these simple strategies and techniques to other parents. My wonderful son is now 18 and I have seen hundreds of parents increase their confidence and their sense of joy as they raise happy and healthy children. I now serve as Parenting Specialist for the Nevada County school districts and I also coach privately, travelling at times to bring the Love and Logic Way curriculum to other groups of parents in need. I teach with heart and humor, offering support and encouragement for the hardest and most important job you'll ever love: Parenting.

Biography: I am a retired educator/administrator for over 16 years, I have a Teaching Credential, and a MS in Education. I teach online and/or live classes to fit parent needs. I found Love & Logic many years ago, when my girls were in their teens. Love & Logic helped me tremendously to create a positive home to raise my children, where my girls could grow up to be responsible adults, and they are responsible adults today. My girls now have children of their own, and use these same strategies with them. They are effective!!! The training helps parents learn strategies they can successfully use to create a respectful, loving, and accountable environment. I have also used these strategies in my classroom, where I taught children with special needs and many behavior challenges. These strategies helped to create an environment where students feel they are cared for and respected, and yet are held accountable for good and not so good choices. By the time they left my classroom, they knew how to use their words to be heard, be kind and respectful to their peers, and how to learn as students. I teach with the heart of a teacher and knowledge of a parent/grandparent. My heart is to empower parents to have wonderful, respectful, relationships with their children where children learn to be cared for, and have boundaries, make good choices, and they know how to use problem solving strategies when something happens.

Biography : Jeshana Avent-Johnson is an articulate, enthusiastic, humorist, gifted facilitator, parent coach and speaker. She captivates the hearts, minds and spirits of her audience by allowing the gift of communication to convey a message that always orbits people into action. Dr. Johnson utilizes an artistic technique of combining her real life stories, powerful quotes, humor and an abundance of inspiration. There's no doubt, Dr. Johnson's ability to move and shake her audience will leave them in a changed state of mind. Whether Dr. Johnson's audience have lost their passion to parent and now find themselves burnt out, lukewarm, ice cold, or if the emblems of parenting with purpose has never been lit, they will not be the same, think, feel or parent the same when Dr. Johnson ignites the fire within! I am a Licensed Clinical Psychologist in the state of California. I am a wife and mom of two adult children. Love and Logic came as a blessing to me while raising my children over 15 years ago and I would love the opportunity to share with you a guaranteed way of raising emotionally healthy and responsible children.
