Curriculum : Parenting the Love and Logic Way

I am a Counselor licensed by the States of Florida and Texas. I have an extensive background working with youth in placement (corrections, foster care) and their families. I became acquainted with the Love & Logic Parenting curriculum while working overseas for the Department of Army serving military families. Even after all these years I still find this approach to parenting to be beneficial to both the child and the parent, because these techniques instill a sense of responsibility and build on the child's self-esteem and allow the parent to parent without constant power struggles. This approach puts age appropriate responsibility on the shoulders of the child.

Curriculum : Parenting the Love and Logic Way, 9 Essential Skills for the Love and Logic Classroom

Dr. Pamela Bruening has been a Love & Logic Facilitator for more than 6 years, both as a parent and as an educator. Her extensive background in working with at-risk youth as teacher, administrator, parent, and consultant is especially helpful to parents and educators seeking to utilize the Love & Logic tools with challenging teenagers. Her company, Progressive Bridges, Inc., provides a variety of educational services to schools, parent groups, and educational companies. Personalized Pathways, their new concierge-type service, specializes in working with parents and children in a holistic manner addressing both academic and motivational/behavioral progress, college and career readiness, and communication skills. Parenting the Love & Logic Way is utilized as part of that individualized program based on client needs. Dr. Bruening or an associate is also available for school events to share Love & Logic's 9 Essential Skills with teachers and administrators upon request. Call or email today to inquire for more details!
