"I have been studying child development and learning styles from many perspectives my whole adult life -as a teacher, parent, and now, as a grandparent. My ability to connect compassionately and articulate the skills and concepts of Love and Logic help ensure the success of this well designed program. Delivering it in a fun and interactive manner ensures that parents look forward to our time together. When it comes to sharing skills that enhance human social interaction, there is no substitute for being with a live audience and a live trainer.

After 18 years of working with families as a parent educator, for me helping parents acquire parenting tools that grow with them and their families is so exciting. The Love and Logic programs are by far my favorite and the easiest to learn in my experience of teaching many different programs. Love and Logic, in-person classes are the perfect way for parents to learn and grow into one of their most important job, Loving Parents. I'm available for one on one and small and large group classes.

Over the course of my 14 years as a teacher, I have taught 5th grade, Kindergarten, and K-8 Special Education. I currently teach 4-6 Special Education at Sherwood Elementary with a focus on Social-Emotional and Behavior skills. I have been using Love and Logic skills in the classroom since 2004. I enjoy collaborating with parents in finding ways for their children to be successful in school and at home! Classes for the 2017-2018 school year are currently being planned. Next class starts January 23, 2018. Visit my website, email or call for further details.

Love and Logic has helped me raise my children. Two are adults, that are now 22 and 25 who live as productive adults. In addition to a third child who came to us through legal guardianship two years ago who is now 13.

I believe in the Love and Logic approach with its five principles that build children to successfully deal with life situations and skill building. The principles and the keys center on relationships, empathy before consequences, shared thinking, shared control within limits and shared dignity. I have taught children up to adults and over the years I have observed when we give children empathy before consequences, shared thinking and shared control, this shows children that they are receiving dignity. If you take this course and apply the principles you will get great results and peace all around. I have taught this course to internationals, teachers, parents and school directors. In addition, I am also a certificated Personal Coach with Coach Approach. Specifically geared to approaching and cultivate personal leadership.

I am a proud Air Force veteran with a master's degree in Adapted Physical Education. I have coached Special Olympic teams and run summer camps for special populations. I have been teaching Physical Education for 31 years with the last 28 in a small school with 92% poverty. I was introduced to Love & Logic about ten years ago. Physical Education class is fast moving and not all students enjoy all activities or outcomes. Love & Logic changed my teaching style from Drill Sergeant to leader and Consultant. No more arguing!

My relationships have become richer because of my understanding and modeling Love & Logic.

I have been teaching the Nine Essential Skills of the Love & Logic Classroom curriculum for the past seven years and teaching the Becoming a Love & Logic Parent curriculum for one year.

As I prepare for retirement from teaching Physical Education, (my body is wearing out) I look forward to having more time dedicated to enhancing my skills and sharing the life changing techniques and beliefs that the Love & Logic Institute teaches. I am excited about the future.

I originally come from England but landed in the USA in 1998. I have three children, one in College and two in high school. I love the Pacific North West. It has been a fantastic place to raise my children.
I have worked with children and parents for more than 20 years. Some of the settings include Head Start, group homes with at risk teens, foster parent, Director of a day care center to name but a few. I am currently a Family Support Worker for a low income preschool program.
