

CHAMPAGNE AND SPARKLING

Champagne is still the benchmark for all sparkling wines in the world, thanks to its legendary climate, soil and the expressive terroir. Champagne is produced from all or some of its three grape varieties: Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier. Elsewhere in France, crémants from cool-weather places like Alsace and Burgundy approximate champagne's lean, crisp and delicious flavors.

Château Carbonnieux Croix de Carbonnieux 2021 {65% Sauvignon Blanc, 35% Sémillon}		64

RHÔNE - RED

Heading further south in France, the climate warms, sunny days are plentiful, and rocks are everywhere. In the Northern Rhône, Syrah produces deep, savory wines. The Southern Rhône offers fruity, spicy, high-alcohol wines from primarily Grenache and Syrah, as well as Mourvèdre, Cinsault and others.

WINE LIST

BURGUNDY – RED

Along with Bordeaux, Burgundy is among the most celebrated wine regions in the world, dating back 2,000 years. The weather in northern France is cool and damp often, ensuring the wines are crisp and medium-bodied, with great minerality and lively acidity. With few exceptions, reds are 100% Pinot Noir, and whites are 100% Chardonnay.
