Re: IMPORTANT PRODUCT REPLACEMENT NOTICE

The NIJ has issued an advisory concerning Point Blank Model LXIII A-1 ballistic package (BAO item PB-CHLLXIII A), and the product has been temporarily suspended from the NIJ Compliant Products List. A copy of the NIJ notice can be found at https://www.justnet.org/body_armor/active_advisory_notices.html.

As a precautionary measure, BAO and Point Blank, the manufacturer of this ballistics package, are undertaking a voluntary recall of the product. Not with standing this voluntary recall, all BAO customers should continue wearing their vests until replacement panels are received. BAO and Point Blank remain confident in the safety of this product, but will be replacing them so there are no concerns. Further, the NIJ has explicitly advised that customers should continue wearing their vests.

BAO and Point Blank have assembled a team to coordinate this replacement effort, which is already underway. To determine whether your ballistics package is subject to this voluntary recall, you should examine the label on your vest. If the model is LXIII A-1, it is subject to the voluntary recall, and the ballistics panels will be replaced at no cost to you, our valued customer. See the photograph below for further guidance on where to identify the model number in order to determine whether your ballistics package is subject to the voluntary recall.

To obtain replacement panels, please fill out this form and return it to Point Blank at returns@pbarmor.com. Once your information is confirmed, BAO and Point Blank will work with you to facilitate the exchange of the ballistics panels, which are subject to the recall. If you have questions, you can contact Filipe Placucci at 1 (800) 413-5155.

Again, you should continue wearing your vest until you receive replacement ballistics panels. We truly apologize for any inconvenience this may cause. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to call the number above.

Sincerely,
Body Armor Outlet, LLC
