ELECTROCUBE California Proposition 65 Statement

Dear Valued Customer,

General:

Electrocube recognizes that the California Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) issued new regulations pertaining to the following:

Legislation Reference: Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (California Proposition 65) Proposition 65 List dated December 29, 2023.

Based on the current definitions and requirements, Electrocube products do not – to the best of our knowledge – pose an exposure risk above the established threshold. In addition, the Electrocube facility meets the current requirements under the revised regulation.

Current State:

Electrocube conducted an analysis of the three exposure risk categories as defined and has determined that:

- Electrocube products do not meet the definition of Consumer Product, “which means any article, or component part thereof, including food, that is produced, distributed, or sold for the personal use, consumption or enjoyment of a consumer.”
- Electrocube products do not meet the definition of Environmental Exposure, “which means an exposure that occurs as the result of contact with an environmental source, such as ambient air, indoor air, drinking water, standing water, running water, soil, vegetation, or manmade or natural substances or objects, through inhalation, ingestion, or skin or other contact with the body.”
- Electrocube products do meet the definition of Occupational Exposure as it pertains to our Pomona facility, “which means an exposure to any employee at his or her place of employment.”

In accordance with Section “Occupational Exposure Warnings,” Electrocube has met the Occupational Exposure requirements described.

Should it become necessary, Electrocube will provide the appropriate Safe-Harbor Warnings pertaining to cancer and/or birth defects or other reproductive harm.
