Ron White The Foot Shoppe hosts customer appreciation night and reveals their new Spring Collection

Monika Schnarr (holding her namesake boot); Ron White (holding the "Ben boot", named after Ben Mulroney); Adrian Mainella (holding his namesake boot, the Adrian).

Ron White, Owner of Ron White The Foot Shoppe, an Oakville Sheridan College Graduate and recent inductee into their prestigious Hall of Business Fame recently hosted a special VIP evening for some of his top customers.

The champagne flowed at the beautiful downtown location, as Ron offered his top customers a "sneak peek" of the sumptuous Spring Collections. In addition to the towering high heel ice sculpture two other big surprises were on hand... Ron's friends Super Model Monika Schnarre, and Fashion File's host Adrian Mainella, both hadn't been in Oakville for some time and loved it so much they didn't want to leave!

The red carpet event was a smashing success. "For me this was a night to just say thank you to some of my best clients. An evening to pamper them and show my sincere appreciation for their business," explained Ron. "Many of my guests have been shopping exclusively with us for over a decade, and that leaves me humbled."

The evening ended with each guest receiving uber deluxe gift bag and as guests thanked their host for the special night, they wanted to know when the next party was scheduled for... "I love the zest for life the Oakville crowd has – they are the best!" said Ron. "Of all seven stores, Oakville continues to have a special place my heart... after all... this is where I got on the path... while attending Sheridan College."
