SAFARILAND® 637 ALS® CONCEALMENT HOLSTER

The Safariland Model 637 ALS® Concealment Holster is a great combination of superb retention and concealability. This belt slide, open top holster features the ALS locking retention system, which secures the firearm in place once holstered, allowing an instinctive, straight up and out draw when the release is deactivated via the thumb.

The 637 features contoured belt slots and the flexible body allows the holster to comfortably mold around the wearer to sit higher and tighter on the hip. This body-hugging, low-profile design makes it highly concealable and very comfortable to wear, as the pistol grip is pulled in towards the small of the back to prevent printing on clothing. A tension adjustment provides a customized firearm fit to the user.

The ALS retention system provides excellent security versus typical open top holsters, yet for additional protection the optional Model 6006 ALS Guard, which covers the ALS lever to guard against any accidental or unauthorized use, can be retrofitted to the holster.
