THE NATIONAL TRAINING ACADEMY

Overview

Safeguarding is everybody's business. It is vital for everyone who works with children, young people, families and/or adults to be fully committed to the safety and wellbeing of the people they work with.

The Designated Safeguarding Person will be the first point of contact for safeguarding within an organisation so an in depth understanding of the role is a must. That is why you are required to do the Group C training/

A Designated Safeguarding Person needs to be able to recognise welfare issues, share appropriate information, manage staff training, and make referrals to the Local Authority Safeguarding team.

In Wales there are requirements under the Social Services and Well-being Act (Wales) 2014 which in relation to safeguarding practice. The National training, learning and development standards for Group C are covered in this course.
