DISCOVER CLOUDNOLA

The Functional Design Label by Christian Jimenez and Renée Vendrig

Cloudnola is a Dutch design brand founded by the passionate design couple Christian Jimenez and Renée Vendrig. Their philosophy revolves around the perfect combination of functionality and aesthetics. Cloudnola strives to create products that are both beautiful and practical, with a focus on meeting the user's needs.

With a minimalist approach and high-quality materials such as wood metal and glass, Cloudnola offers functional design that enriches our daily lives. The brand has gained recognition for its clocks and wall decorations, but has recently made an exciting new development: the Flip vases. These unique vases combine stylish shapes with a clever flip function, allowing you to easily switch between different flower displays. It is a perfect example of how Cloudnola brings together innovative design and functionality.

Discover the world of Cloudnola and be inspired by the design duo Jimenez and Vendrig. Whether it's clocks, wall decorations, or the latest Flip vases, Cloudnola offers timeless and practical design solutions for a stylish interior.

What you see is what you get! This metal flip clock is impressive and gives a glimpse into the mechanism of the clock. The industrial look evokes wonder and respect. The clock can stand or hang and uses 1 D battery and is easy to operate by simply turning the wheel. There is no loud seconds hand, the only thing you hear is the soft, smooth cover of the leaf.

ARTIST ARTWORK: DICK BRUNA

Dick Bruna was a renowned Dutch artist, illustrator, and author whose work spanned over six decades. However, it was his creation of Miffy that earned him international acclaim and cemented his place in the world of children's literature. Miffy, known as "Nijntje" in Dutch, is a small, white, anthropomorphic rabbit, created by Bruna in 1955 when he was asked to produce a picture book for his young son.
