Let's first familiarize ourselves with the former Provo Tabernacle and new Provo City Center Temple:

1. The Provo Tabernacle began construction in 1883.
2. The last time the LDS church held General Conference outside of Salt Lake City was in 1887. It was held in the Provo Tabernacle.
3. In April 1898, George Q. Cannon dedicated the Tabernacle.
4. In 1917, the Tabernacle was remodeled and the center spire was removed due to the strain it was putting on the roof.
5. The new Provo City Center Temple has the center spire restored and is just one of three temples with a central spire and four corner spires. The other two temples are the Cochabamba Bolivia Temple and the Oakland California Temple.
6. The Provo City Center Temple consists of four levels, two above the ground and two that are below.
7. The Provo City Center Temple is the 16th temple in the state of Utah and the 2nd temple in the city of Provo.
8. The only other city to have two temples besides Provo is South Jordan, Utah which has the Jordan River Temple & the Oquirrh Mountain Temple.
9. The Provo City Center Temple is the fourth temple to be built from an existing building. The other three temples are Vernal, Copenhagen, and Manhattan.
10. The Provo City Center Temple is the second temple to be built from a Tabernacle. The first is the Vernal Utah Temple.
