

BENNY BUNGARRA'S BIG BUSH CLEAN-UP

An entertaining environmental tale about Benny Bungarra, who comes to the rescue when his friends are in danger from rubbish left by humans

Benny Bungarra's Big Bush Clean-Up is an environmental tale for Early Childhood and Lower Primary readers showing how animals are affected by rubbish left in their habitat by humans. Ambelin Kwaymullina's illustrations are an explosion of colour and cleverly depict the perils faced by our native animals.

After Benny Bungarra helps his friends, Olive Python, Colin Crow and Kathy Kangaroo when they get caught up in rubbish, they decide to work together to ask the humans to reduce, reuse, recycle and use rubbish bins. But it is Benny who has the bright idea of a BIG BUSH CLEAN-UP so the animals can also help look after the bush.
