Insole length (mm):

1. Simply line up your child's heels and insteps to the dotted lines. Gently press on your child's feet to make sure they're flat and that the toes aren't curled. Tip: Try tickling the bottoms of their feet to get them relaxed and easy to measure.
2. Measure and mark in millimeters, draw a line in front of their longest toes. Allow 5-10mm extra when selecting your shoe size, more if child wears thick socks with shoes. Don't worry, it's common to have one foot larger than the other, so be sure to use the longer foot to measure.
3. Use your measurement to select the perfect fit from our website. Note: each style varies slightly in sizing. Remember to round up to the larger available size.

REMEMBER: Your child's feet are constantly growing so measure them every two to three months.
