KANNA  SWISS

Hello/Hoi/Salü/Sali
KannaSwiss produces a broad range of CBD-based products for a variety of lifestyles and audiences. Available in a plethora of patented delivery mechanisms, our entire product line is created from organic cannabis grown in the Swiss highlands that is ecologically farmed, lab processed, and purified in our own facilities. Through each step, we adhere to the strictest safety and quality standards while utilizing the latest in pharmaceutical science and equipment. Our intention is to become a global market leader in CBD.

What is CBD?

Known by the abbreviation CBD, Cannabidiol is among the most common chemical compounds (called "cannabinoids") in the much-loved cannabis plant. While other cannabinoids like the better-known THC offer psychoactive effects, CBD does not. In other words, CBD provides relaxation and a variety of health benefits, but it doesn't get you "high".

How Does it Work?

Cannabinoids like CBD deliver their effects by binding to special receptors in your body known fittingly as cannabinoid receptors. While they're densest throughout the central nervous system, these receptors can be found in virtually every part of the body. This network of receptors is called your endocannabinoid system (ECS). The ECS is involved in a vast range of functions in your body, such as pain perception, mood, immune function, motor control, memory, appetite, sleep, bone development, and even reproduction. When CBD finds its way to your various receptors, it benefits the corresponding function.

Health Benefits

Because of its ability to interact with so many systems of the body, CBD is known for delivering complex, far-reaching benefits. Perhaps the best known are its calming and pain relieving effects, but studies have shown that CBD can also be a powerful tool in the treatment of major issues like epilepsy, schizophrenia, cancer, anxiety, diabetes, lupus, Parkinson's Disease, OCD, osteoporosis, motor disorders, and substance abuse, among others.

Topicals

Our line of potent, fast-acting, discrete topicals allow users to simply pump, apply, then get on with their day. Containing CBD fused with a range of condition-specific herbal extracts, each blend has been carefully crafted to deliver maximum effectiveness. And thanks to our use of Derma-Release® technology, our transdermal endocannabinoid boosters protect ingredients as they pass through the skin, allowing for the highest level of bioavailability and the best results.

Supplements

Our line of CBD supplements are crafted to deliver maximum effectiveness whether the user is seeking post-sport recovery, a boost to their immune system, or a more restful night's sleep.

Team of Experts

At KannaSwiss, we've built a team of like-minded experts who are among the best in the business, and who believe in quality and care above all else. To us, you're more than just a customer. You're our partner on the path to greater health, and our team is dedicated to providing you with the hemp products you need to enjoy being at your best.

Stringent Process

We love our mothers, and finding the ideal Mother plant from which to breed each of our strains is essential to providing you with perfection. Our process starts in a grow room full of single-strain mothers, which we watch carefully and examine for the characteristics of quality. Upon harvest, all our flowers are tested meticulously to ensure their cannabinoid and terpene levels will meet our strict standards. Once the queen among these mothers has been discovered, we tend to her daughters with a level of care befitting a princess. We use only natural, holistic solutions to protect our plants from predators and other problems, and employ supercharging strategies such as raising CO2 levels to drive maximum growth potential. You can literally smell the effort we put into achieving perfection with our plants, the strong aroma and flavor of terpene being a giveaway when it comes to quality.

State-of-the-Art Facility

Working out of our brand-new facility in Kölliken, Switzerland, KannaSwiss uses the most advanced indoor grow science known to date – and we're constantly working to push the boundaries of cultivation knowledge. We believe that you can improve upon perfection, and that's what we strive to do every day.

Pure, Potent Goodness

As one of the few CBD producers to use the powerful process of chromatography to separate out various impurities, KannaSwiss is able to provide CBD oils of paramount potency and perfection. Not only does this method remove anything that could taint our oils, but at the same time it preserves the presence of essential cannabinoids like CBC, CBG, and CBN, along with health-boosting elements like terpenes, vitamin E, and fatty acids. What's more, our oils go through another extra step that most producers avoid in order to speed up the production process. But we don't care about speed – we're committed to quality. That's why we go the extra mile by converting the acidic cannabinoid CBDa into pure CBD, allowing for more concentration, better taste, and unrivaled effectiveness.
