

Here's What Top Designers Are Buying to Stay Cozy This Winter

Though winter fun this year may look a little different, that doesn't mean you should sacrifice the warm, cozy feeling winter brings. There's certainly a level of comfort that comes with settling in at home and enjoying calm winter days and escaping from daily craziness.

You might've had more than enough of your home last year, but trust us. There's always a way to make things better—and these expert designer picks are certainly one of them. Below, check out what several top interior designers are purchasing to keep their homes fun, interesting, and calming this winter, especially given how chaotic this year has been.

04 A Cozy Pillow

of 08

“While we all can't wait to wrap our arms around our loved ones when it is safe to do so, we can still wrap our arms around a cozy pillow,” says Lauren Meichtry of Elsie Home. “Pillows are a grown-up's stuffed animal, after all.”

Elsie Home Solid Terracotta Pillow ($58)

SHOP