Maintenance and cleaning

Clean the mainframe and the filters regularly.

There are two styles of inlet filters on these models. They are removed by pulling the lever on the adage of the filters and lifting them out of the slots which hold them.

Wash the filters in a dishwasher, or by hand using household dish-washing liquid and gently clean it with a soft brush.

Allow filters to dry thoroughly before placing them back in the rangehood.

When replacing, ensure the filters are put back in their correct position.

Wipe any dirt on the mainframe with a damp cloth and mild detergent. Wipe with a dry towel.

Do not use abrasive cleaners or scourers as these will damage the surface.

Commercial stainless steel cleaning products are available for more difficult staining.
Wash the grease filters on a regular basis wearing gloves.

When the oil reaches 2/3 level of the oil cup, empty the oil out of the oil cup and wash the oil cup.

When the range hood will be unused for a long period of time, unplug it from the electrical outlet.

When cleaning the product, ensure that the power is off.
