TOP 6: LONDON FASHION WEEK SPRING/SUMMER 2015

Even though winters are almost around the corner, but the fashion industry is talking Spring/Summer 2015. With the London Fashion Week kick off on 12th September 2014 it has given us the first dose of what's in and what's out for the 2015 summers.

When we think of summers, we imagine light colours like peach, yellow, baby pink etc but it looks like the fashion trend has taken a few diversions this time. We bring to you a review from our favourite shows which are a must have for the coming summer 2015.

Lulu & Co had interesting take on patterns on patterns with deep black, oranges and purple with very artistic blended prints. The designer known for her eclectic eye, directional style and upbeat London attitude did depict in her collection.
