

Garden Party Munchies!

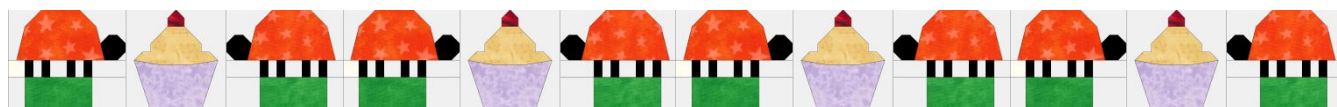

Two LadyBugs, initially attracted by the colourful bunting, discovered a CupCake at the Garden Party and could think of no way of taking the CupCake away so they had to eat it!
 Watched on by a Flutterby who got into a bit of a flap!

Garden Party Munchies!

(Block # 13 in the Garden Party Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
 10" (10½") finished foundation pieced block

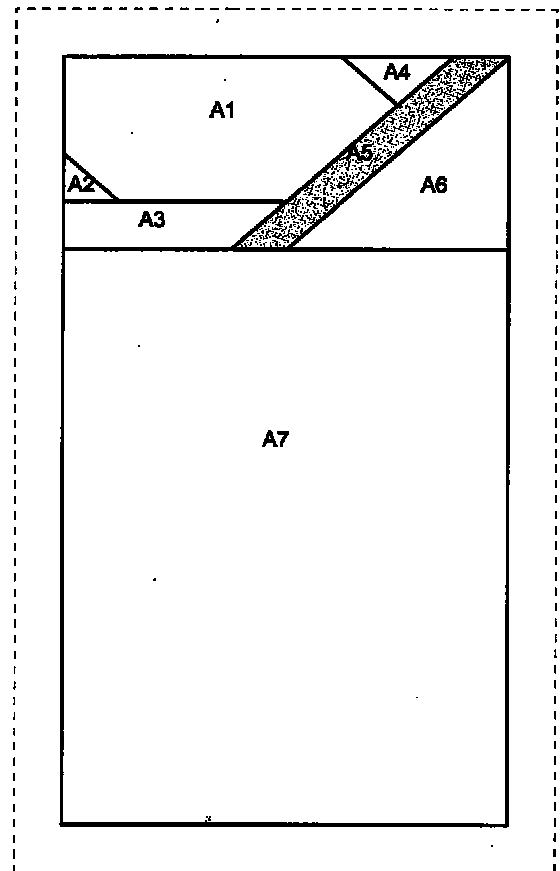

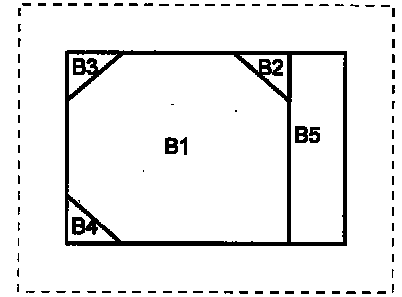

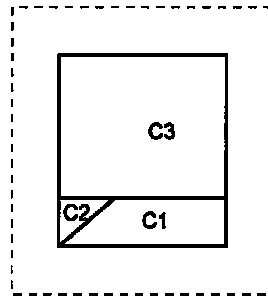

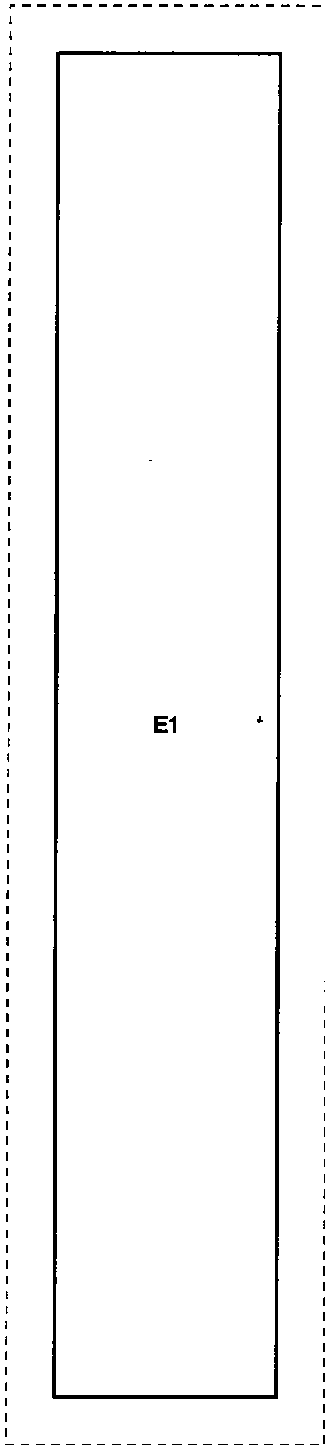

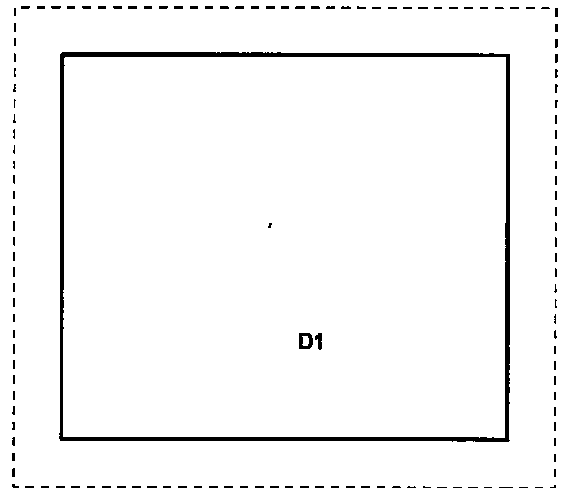

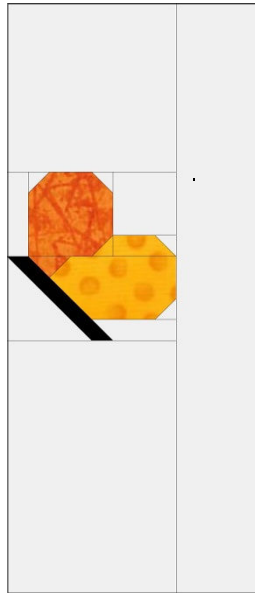

Small amounts of a variety of fabrics are required, maybe something red for the ladybugs and some brights for the bunting?
 A little bit of embroidery (straight stitches with French knots) for the feelers of the Flutterby and LadyBugs, or use a permanent marking pen.

The block is broken down into smaller sections, which would make great blocks in their own right! The pieces are numbered in the suggested order of piecing. The pattern is reversed so that it will come out the same as the picture.

Flutterby

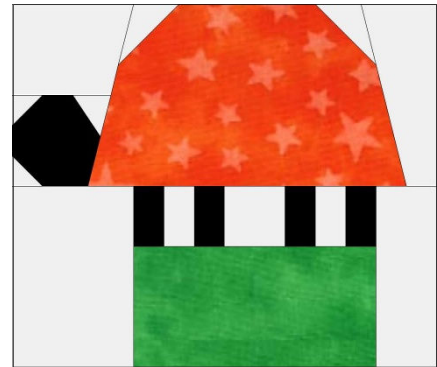

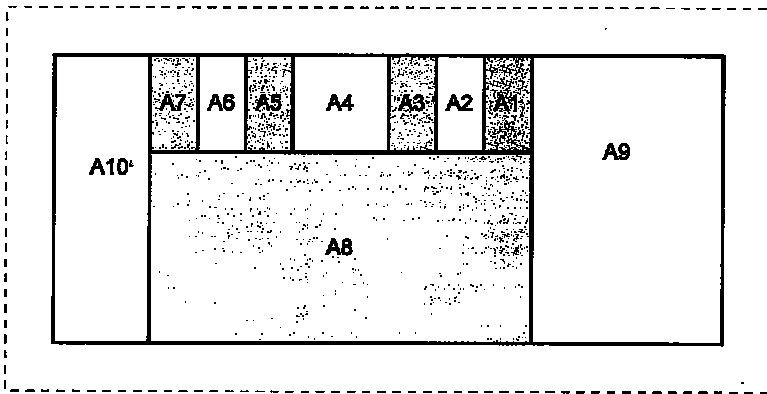

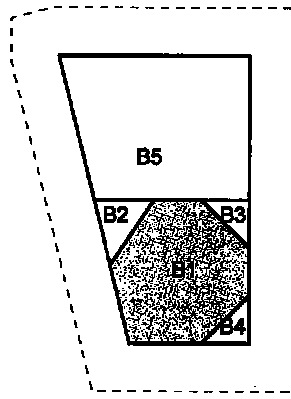

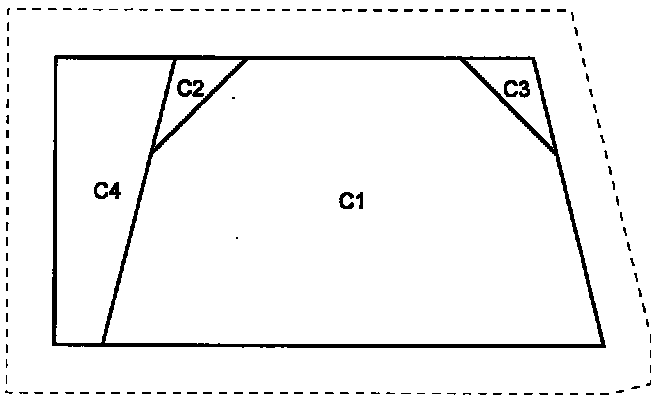

This section should measure
3" x 7" (3½" x 7½")

Garden Party Munchies!cont'd
(Block # 13 in the Garden Party Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
10" (10½") finished foundation pieced block

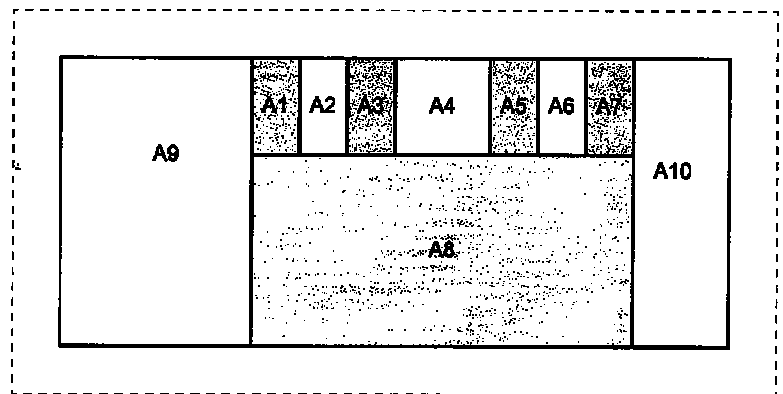

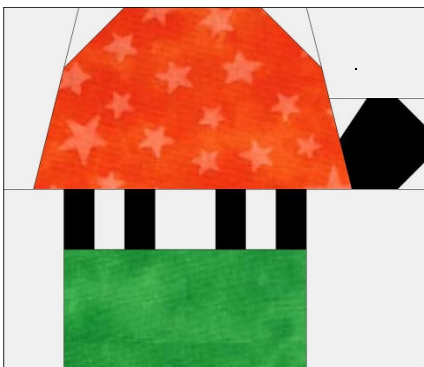

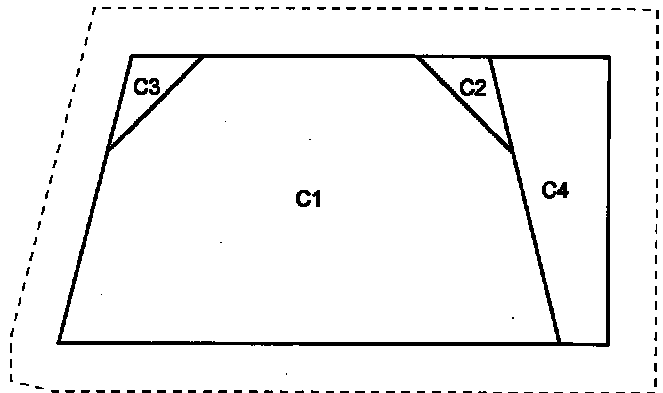

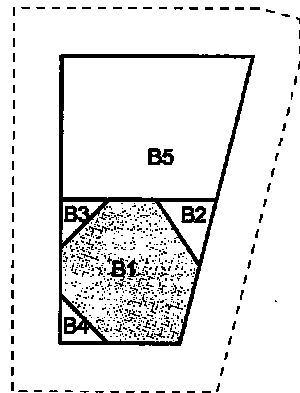

LadyBugs

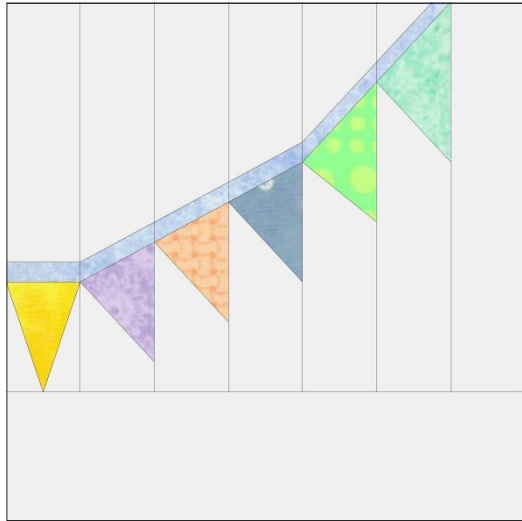

This section should measure
3" x 3 1/2" (3 1/2" x 4")

Garden Party Munchies

.....cont'd
(Block # 13 in the Garden Party
Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
10" (10 1/2") finished foundation
pieced block

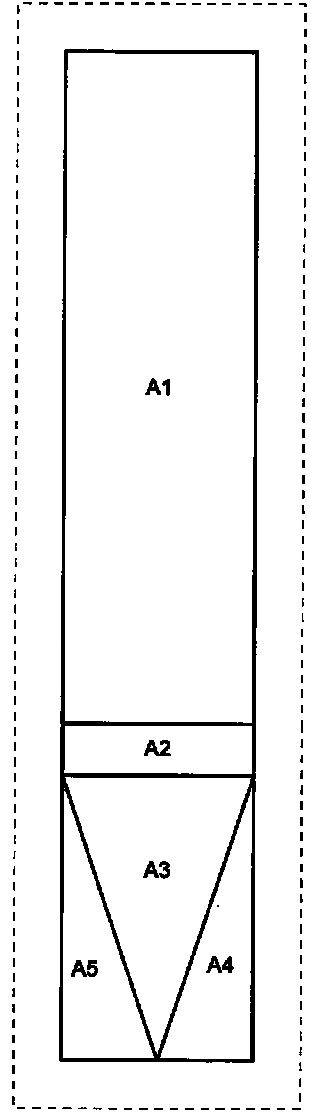

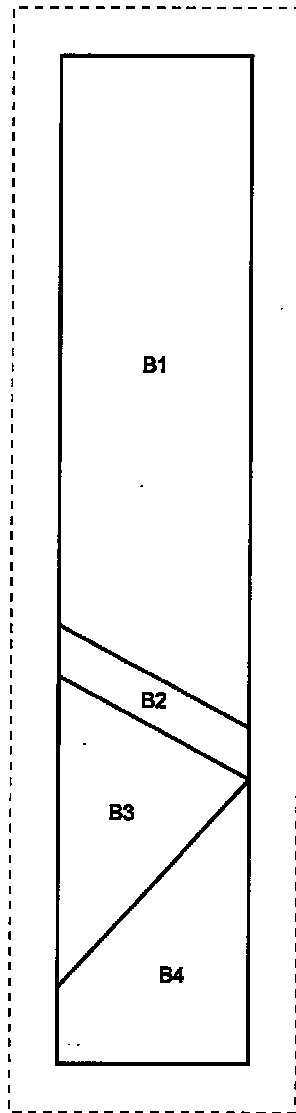

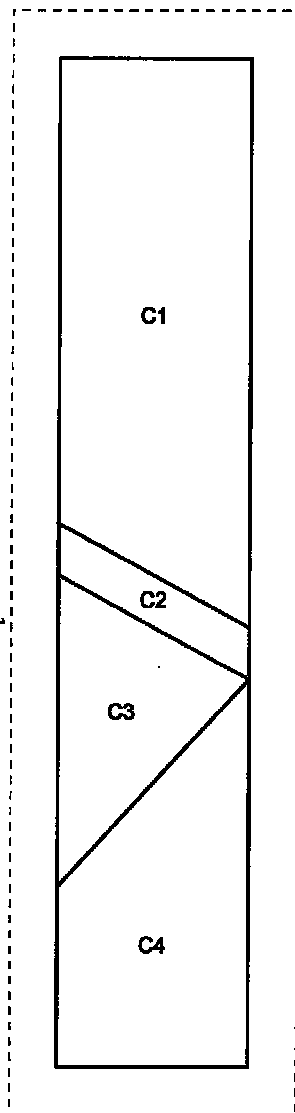

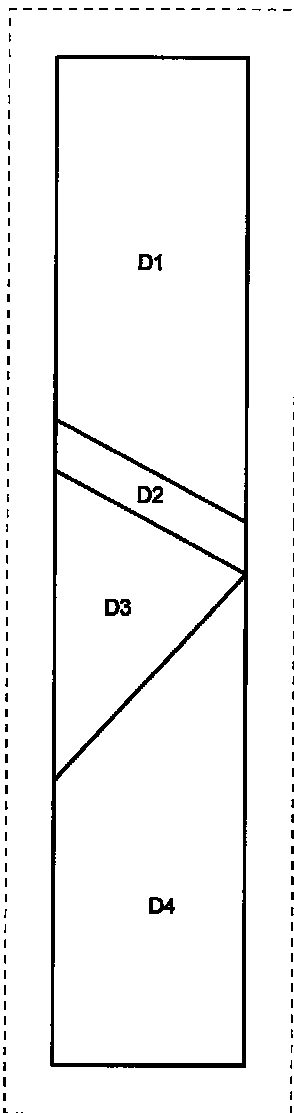

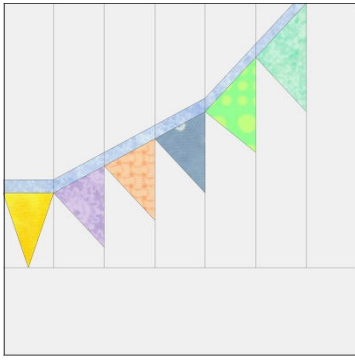

Bunting

This section should measure
7" x 7" (7½" x 7½")

Garden Party Munchies!cont'd

(Block # 13 in the Garden Party Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
10" (10½") finished foundation pieced block

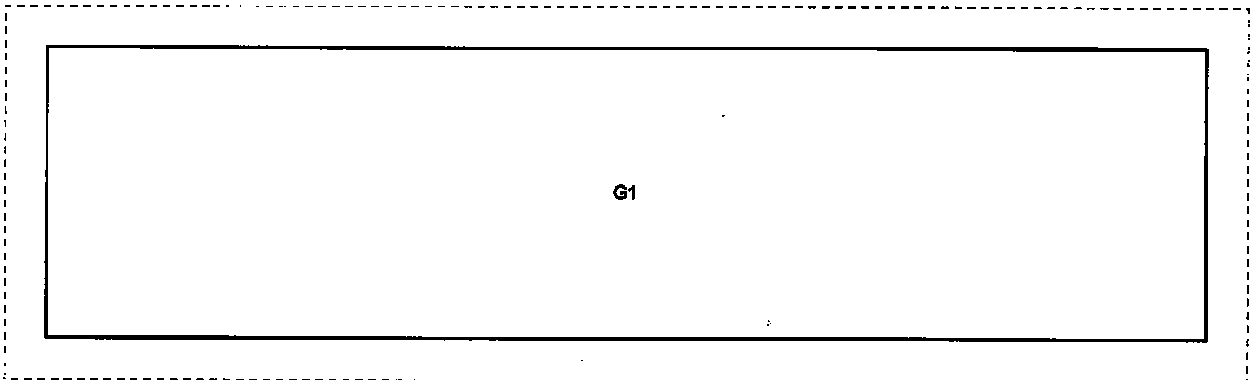

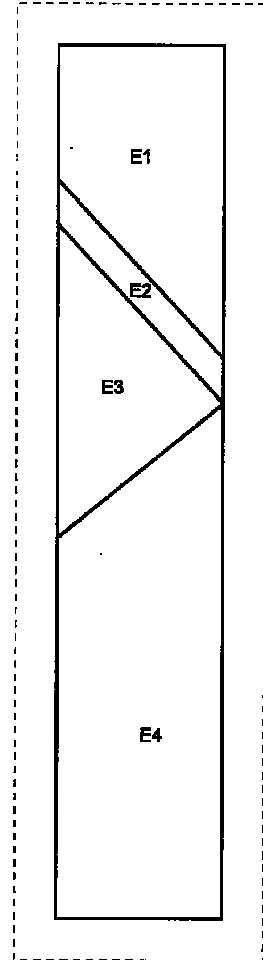

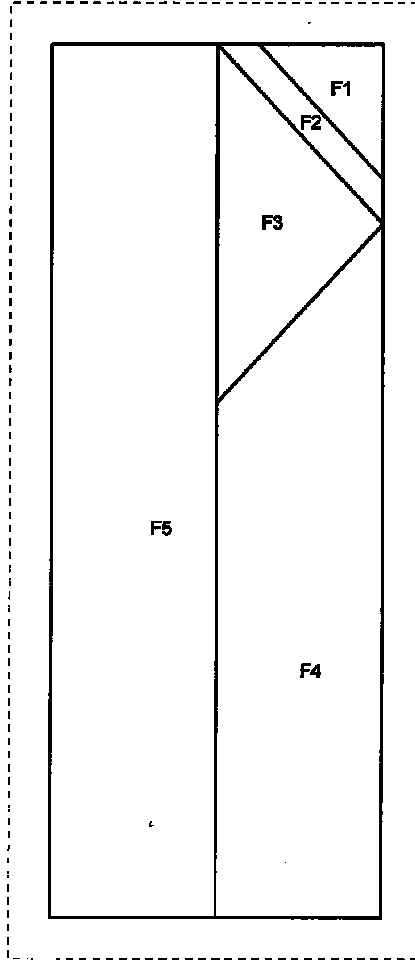

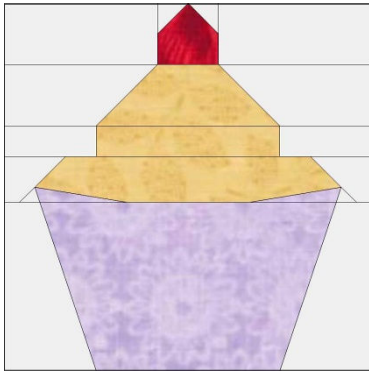

Garden Party Munchies!cont'd
 (Block # 13 in the Garden Party Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
 10" (10 1/2") finished foundation pieced block

Bunting cont'd

This section should measure
 7" x 7" (7 1/2" x 7 1/2")

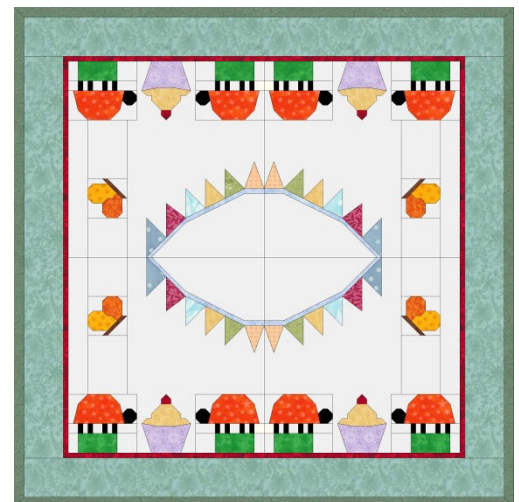

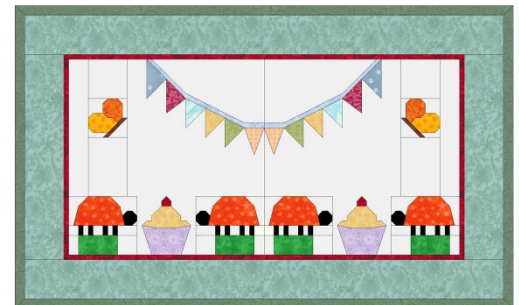

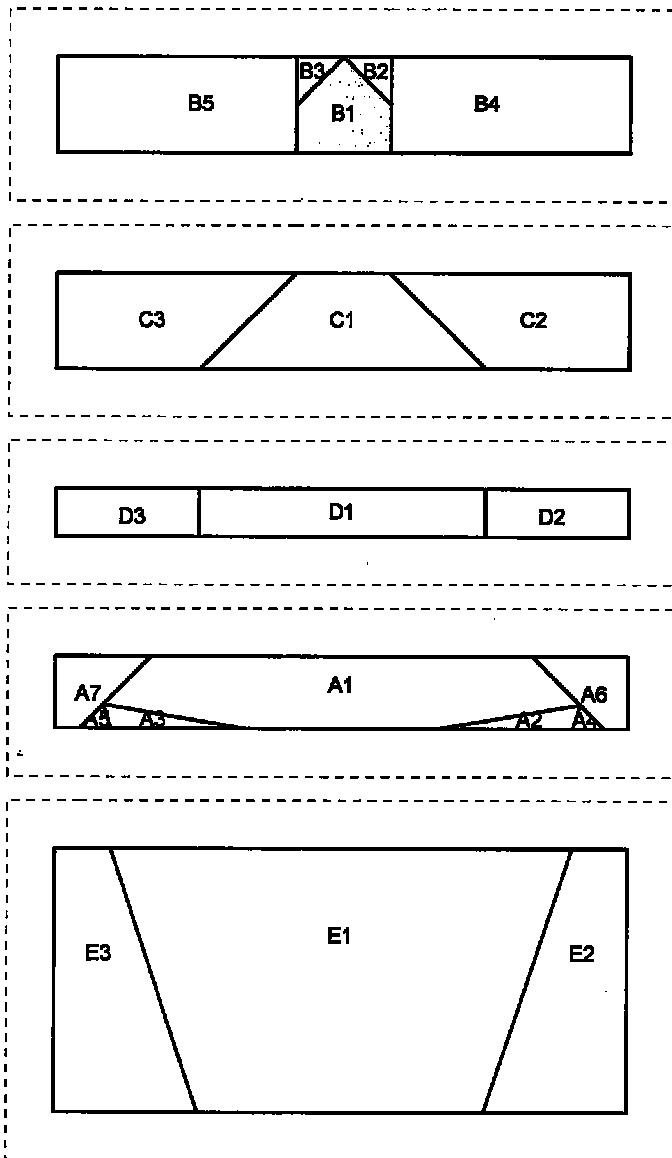

CupCake

This section should measure
3" x 3" (3½" x 3½")

Garden Party Munchies!cont'd

(Block # 13 in the Garden Party Blog Hop by Sew Hooked)
10" (10½") finished foundation pieced block

Garden Party Munchies!
Layout suggestions.