

Kendra Dublin

Kendra Dublin is sought out for her work with Christian millennials and cultivating unique ways to keep them on track with God's purpose in our current culture. Her story of alcoholism and abuse has made her an expert in overcoming difficulties and making lifestyle changes. She wants to give hope where there is fear, and where pain resides is knowledge for achievement.

Kendra is the owner of God's Perspective for Me® LLC. She is the author of God's Perspective for Me Volumes 1 and 2 and a collaborator of The Resistance with Becky A. Davis.

Kendra has spoken at various conferences, summits and Bible studies for millennials, and women. Invite Kendra to transform your audience because...

SPEAKER APPROVED

"The presentation was awesome. I took the most away from the real-life application."
-Alvin Daniels, Jr.

"Kendra Dublin is a blessing! I appreciate her knowledge and energy and how she connects with us! She laid it out helping us to build up our discipline to stay in practice for our service to God."
-Crystal Carter

"You know when you just want to drop the mic. I just want to drop it, like take that. When you talked about my daily life being in alignment to your spiritual values, it showed me to ask the hard questions of myself. Before I go to sleep, I can assess my day."
-Sherri Elder

TOMORROW IS TOO LATE TO BE GREAT!

"Kendra points you straight to Jesus, while delivering thought provoking commentary in her reflective poems. Hands down the most spiritual book I've read besides the Bible."
-Natalie Hall
