You are the new owner of a Cowboy Cauldron!

As you might guess, Santa always has a tough time stuffing Cauldrons down chimneys... The good news is we’re hard at work making your Cauldron and it’ll be on its way soon!

Even though you don’t have a Cauldron sitting in the middle of your living room, please know that it will be delivered as soon as possible. You can anticipate delivery very soon after Christmas day, and we will be working to get your Cauldron to you as soon as humanly (or elfishly) possible.

In the meantime, hug the person who gave you this fabulous gift, if you can.

If not, start writing the thank-you note!

Mike Bertelsen
President