EXCLUSIVE

This exclusive super-concentrated fertiliser contains essential trace elements and minerals to boost healthy growth, and encourage bumper crops and maximum flowering. Unlike fresh manure or chemical fertilisers, it won't scorch plants so can be used regularly as a top dressing; perfect for use with all fruit, vegetables and ornamental plants.

Benefits

- Slow release
- Improves soil structure
- Suitable for all plants (including ericaceous)
- Ready-to-use

Why our customers love Organic Extra

- The lightweight, dry formula is easy to work with
- It's super versatile - soak in water to create a nutritious liquid feed
- Slow-release nutrients to feed your plants over a long period
- Super-concentrated so only requires a couple of handfuls per square yard

Marshalls catalogue Autumn 2020 | marshallsgarden.com

Welcome to the Marshalls autumn 2020 catalogue. We hope you're keeping safe and have been enjoying your gardens over the summer.

Autumn is a magical time in the garden as we're able to enjoy the stunning colours of the season whilst preparing to wind the garden down for winter, and plan ahead for spring.

It's also nature's planting time as the soil is still warm so perfect time to plant new shrubs and perennials and nourish the soil for bigger and better crops next year. It's also time to think about protection for tender plants to support their growth during the colder months.

In this edition

You'll find 37 pages of veg seed and NEW onions, shallots and garlic, and we've introduced a NEW range of 1KG seed potatoes. You can also pre-order your spring planting veg plants for delivery next season.

In our flowers and plants range, you'll find NEW winter bedding and over 50 NEW spring bulb varieties for 2020, as well as NEW shrubs and perennials to give your garden colour and interest the whole year through.

We've also remained loyal to the firm favourites we know you look forward to growing year after year, so you can be sure we have something for every gardener.

What to expect WHEN ORDERING PLANTS

Plug plants are seedlings which are grown in modular trays and are ready to 'pot on' into larger pots when you receive them.

Medium Plug Plants

Quantities & sizing:

12 cell tray - plug size 3 x 2cm
16 cell tray - plug size 3 x 2cm

25 cell tray - plug size 2 x 1cm
50 cell tray - plug size 2 x 1cm

For extra large plugs, 1 & 2 Ltr pots and bare roots, these can be planted directly into the ground or containers.

Large Plug Plants

Quantities & sizing:

9 cell tray - plug size 7 x 5cm
24 cell tray - plug size 3 x 2.5cm

Extra-Large Plug Plants

Quantities & sizing:

3 cell tray - plug size 5 x 3cm
6 cell tray - plug size 5 x 3cm

On arrival, unpack them and place in water to moisten the compost and then leave in a warm place for a day or so to settle before planting.

Multi-sown modules (approx. 40 seedlings in total)

Quantities & sizing:

9 cell tray - plug size 7 x 5cm
24 cell tray - plug size 3 x 2.5cm

Each cell contains approximately four seedlings

How to grow brassicas

Brassicas include cauliflower, broccoli, cabbage, kale, and brussels sprouts which are all remarkably hardy in cooler weather and are rewarding to grow, as well as being very nutritious.

Brassicas should be rotated around the garden or allotment every 3 years as this will help reduce the risk of pests and diseases destroying crops. When planting out, use brassica collars to protect from cabbage root fly.

How to grow carrots

Whether you are looking for uniformity, yield, harvest or flavour, we've taken care in ensuring we bring you the very best carrot seeds which are suitable for growing in the UK. When sowing carrots, avoid stony soil if possible or opt for a variety with shorter roots. Soil should also be free draining and sunny. Short-rooted carrot varieties can be grown in containers or growing bags.

Carrot 'Early French Frame 4 Lisa'

Produces little round orange roots which are a rich source of carotene. The fresh roots taste delicious and can be used for juices or as a healthy snack. Quick to crop and perfect for poor soils or container growing.

Seed Potatoes

Our high-quality seed potatoes have been specially selected by our experts for their flavour and reliability. They're all grown in the UK and hold DEFRA or SEERAD certification.

Marshalls seed potatoes are also certified under the Safe Haven Certification Scheme; they're grown only from Safe Haven-sourced seed or disease-free stock which helps protect against any pests and diseases not found in Britain which affect potatoes.

Chitting Tubers can be chitted before they're planted to enable strong shoots to develop – this is particularly useful for potatoes which crop early. Stand them in a tray or an eggbox with one of the narrower ends pointing upwards (choose the end with the most eyes). They're ready to plant when shoots are around 2.5cm long.

Planting It's important to make sure the soil is not too wet or frozen. When planting in the ground, place the tubers approximately 15cm apart in rows that are 60cm apart with the eyes facing upwards; scatter Marshalls Pre-planting Potato Fertiliser into each trench before placing the tubers in. For container planting, it's important to use a bag or pot that is at least 45cm wide to provide the tubers with the space to grow. When shoots are about 15cm tall, begin earthing up with around 2.5cm of soil; keep covering the new shoots with more soil as they grow as this will help with ventilation and prevent potatoes from turning green. Make sure they're watered well.

Unwins Flower Seed - Wildflowers & Wildlife

Planting for Wildlife

Planting wildflowers in a garden setting is beneficial to support insects and other wildlife. It is extremely important to attract pollinators, which have seen a decline of recent times.

We can help both bees and butterflies thrive in our outdoor spaces, by growing pollinator-friendly plants like these wildflowers, which will not only provide food, but also a kaleidoscope of colour in the garden.

Wildflower 'Corn Poppy'

These corn poppies are top choice if you are looking to naturalise or add beautiful bright red colour. A symbol of remembrance and hope for the future, this variety is perfect for a wildflower garden or meadow.

Roses - Bush Varieties

Roses

Roses are the quintessential English flower. These timeless beauties come in a range of colours, but it's their scent that thrills.

All of our roses are supplied as dormant bare roots. On delivery, soak the roots in water for 30 minutes before planting. Prepare the soil by breaking it up with a fork, remove any large stones before mixing with well-rotted farmyard manure and making holes big enough to the roots to be spread out.

Autumn Lawn Care

Prepare for Spring

Autumn is an important time in the lawn care calendar; it's time to prepare your lawn now to make sure it looks its best come the spring.

Feed your lawn using a specially formulated autumn lawn feed and aerate it if it's compacted, so water and nutrients get to the roots of the grass. Autumn is also a good time to lay a new lawn, or repair any patches that may have occurred through heavy use during the summer.
