

JEFF NELSON (Minor Threat / Dischord Records) — Speaking of Dischord, Fugazi's Instrument is still one of my favorite albums.

Beatles - Yesterday and Today
Scream - Still Screaming

Deep Purple - Who Do We Think We Are?

I don't think I've ever listened to a Deep Purple album, will have to check.

Deep Purple - Fireball

Deep Purple - In Rock

Strauss - The Blue Danube

AC/DC - Highway to Hell

The Saints - Eternally Yours There's just so much musica in the world. another one I've never listened to.

Thin Lizzy - Jailbreak

The Pretenders - self-titled been into them so much more recently. so effortless.

The Pretenders - Learning to Crawl

Earth and Fire - The Best of Earth and Fire

Shocking Blue - The Best of Shocking Blue

Herb Alpert and Tijuana Brass - Going Places

Dean Martin - A Winter Romance

RECORD CHECK FLASHBACK

Real slick horns, basslines, and drums that sound like a hippy Portishead. I have had a crush on Bonnie since I had this album and "Milk and Honey" is THE JAM. Bonnie brings the rain hardcore to the brain. Volusia and Orange county heads know about this one. Peace to aerolex and brethatMostfeair. - DIPLO

The best soul jazz record ever. Fuck what anyone else says. This man could play bop with the best of him, and he was a true virtuoso. And Carol Kaye convinced him to do a funk record. Too bad this never really came out, it woulda been a monster. - EGON

I don't know anyone who doesn't like this album. It's one of those rare ones you could listen to in the car with your mom or you could hear at any reggae party today, still mashing the place down. Every song is brought on with smooth rhythms and great harmonies. But don't be misled by the sweet melodies: these guys don't just sing love songs or about bullshit either. "Ca when the right time come, some ago charge fe treason, some ago run till they tumble down". Righteous music all the way... If you don't know this record, you're in serious trouble. One of the all-time great reggae albums. It was an early big hit for the Channel One Studio, with Earnest and Jo Jo Hoo-Kim behind the boards. - JASPER

If you're getting this that means you ordered something from the Lab during the most uncertain of times. Thank you for your support.

We've been meaning to start a Lab zine and current events lit that creative fire. This zine will just be general randomness from Lab past + present.

Also, we've made a Spotify playlist (user:Turntable Lab, playlist: Vibes Is Right) for reggae songs that have been helping us through the chaos. Check it out if you need a spark.

CLASSIC BOOTLEG REVIEW from 5/2005

EDDIE DRENNON: Do What You Gotta Do 12" / Friends & Co.

You know I had to do the review right! First things first, this 12" does not exist. There is no original "Do What You Gotta Do" 12. You will never find it cause it don't exist. That said, this record is the sheeit! As featured on Roctakon's Good Life CD, (which is on sale now, just go to the cds page and buy it) this is a must own piece. A Red Alert BLS classic, every NY hip hop dj I've ever played this for either had it or was like "I remember that, that's my shit."; Smooth soul vocals provided by Eddie's Friends & Co labelmate Esther Williams over a funky but mellow but funky but mellow but damn it's funky break. This is the kind of record that makes people fuck, straight up. Get to bumpin booties to this joint and tell me you don't get ass! The flip "Do It Nice and Easy(2)"; is another smooth funk cut from the same album. Equally dope, but not nearly as well known, it's one to watch. Top notch stuff here boys and girls, and yea I'm gonna go ahead and say it- you gotta buy two! Sorry this record is only sold in twos! (ed.note: in actuality, it comes as a single, up the ante in the cart) - THE ROC

RECORDS THAT CHANGED
THE COURSE OF LAB HISTORY

SOLID GROOVE: This Is Sick 12"
Label: Front Room Recordings 2005

In 2005 we were still firmly entrenched in our Jeru-vian ways. DFA was starting to hit, so we we let Alison pick up some records for the new dance section. This is the first record of this style that we couldn't keep in stock (bought it from Watts Dist). This led us into Dubsided titles (remember Jesse Rose, Herve, Induceve?), which helped spawn the Blog House scene. If I had to name the most disposable era of music - Blog House, no contesto. We moved so much of it (even pressed up some titles with Fool's Gold) and now Discogs is littered with copies that have the value of candy bars. (there's 28 of this Solid Groove on Discogs starting at $2).
