Did You Know That

Radon gas, also known as “The Silent Killer,” is responsible for over 21,000 lung cancer deaths in the United States every year, according to the EPA. Even more alarming is the fact that it is the number one cause of lung cancer among non-smokers.

-  Nearly 1 in 15 homes in the U.S. is estimated to have high radon levels.
-  It is estimated that 15.5% of all lung cancer cases are attributable to radon.
-  Radon exposure is not elective like smoking.
-  We can reduce the number of radon caused lung cancer deaths by doing radon testing the right way.

Radon levels fluctuate constantly - Ecosense radon monitors are designed to track these fluctuating levels quickly and accurately.
