RED BAFFLES

Red Cymbal / Drum baffles are an effective alternative to the dreaded 'drummer's cage' - the plexiglass/ perspex drum screen which sucks the energy out of the room, ruins the vibe and is hated by most drummers.

Instead, these baffles can be positioned in front of louder instruments on a drum kit such as cymbals or a snare for refracting harsh frequencies (reducing bleed into mics on stage especially vocalist mics) and are relatively invisible on the stage.
