

IN THE BAG

Small Wonder

With all due respect to the it-bag, I prefer arm candy that's not what everyone else is carrying. My latest uncommon favorite is this mini tote with delicate chain detailing by Hayward Luxury. (Fun fact: Marin Hopper, daughter of the late Dennis Hopper and actress Brooke Hayward, is the designer.) Best of all, the bag's tote style is timeless, so it truly goes with everything. Mini leopard shopper in Venetian brocade, $1,290, haywardluxury.com

Casa de Sasha

Our style director's guide to all things fashion

BY SASHA CHARNIN MORRISON

TOTAL OBSESSION

Hat Trick

When this diva is out of dry shampoo, I hide my roots under my fancy Shhhowercap. Though smaller than regular shower caps, it easily holds my long hair and is made of a nano-tech fabric over which water beads up and slides off. But it's also great outside the house—like a modern-day turban. Shhhowercap, $43, shhhowercap.com

SEEING STARS

CBS Celebs Are Crazy for ... Sparkle

Here's a bright idea: Glitz and glimmer are now worn year-round, so why not put on something sparkly this summer? As these leading ladies of CBS, The CW, and Showtime illustrate, this trend is all about having fun, so break out of your comfort zone and go for major color and sheen. Or at the very least, try adding a mini dose of dazzle to your look with a lip gloss, phone case, or pair of shoes that shimmer.

Lili Reinhart in Monique Lhuillier

Faith Hill in Michael Kors

Allison Janney in Prabal Gurung

Connie Britton in Elisabetta Franchi

Rachel Reynolds in Dress the Population

HOT LABEL

Evie Marques

Wearing beads around your neck may serve as barter for drinks at Mardi Gras—but these chic necklaces bring you only high-class style. The Evie Marques collection, from designer Susan Swimmer, has necklaces in both classic and bright colors, so they layer well, and their clean design is great for balancing out a shimmering outfit. Necklaces, $195 each, eviemarques.com

FOR PHOTO CREDITS, SEE PAGE 128