
Tear on perforation to remove instructions from the template then follow the steps below or turn over for flush striker

CL400 RECESSED STRIKER TEMPLATE

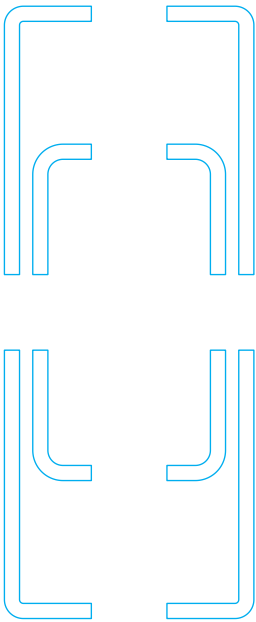
1. If closing jamb is RECESSED: cut template to width of recess in closing jamb. If closing jamb is FLAT: align centre line on template with centre of closing jamb
2. Align horizontal line on template with horizontal line on closing jamb
3. Mark hole positions for 4 x ø2.5mm (3/32″) holes
4. Using a sharp pencil, trace around stencil, keeping to outermost edge of slots. Remove template and complete rectangles
5. Router inner section to depth of 24mm (15/16″) from FACE of jamb
6. Router outer section to depth of 12.75mm (1/2″) from FACE of jamb
7. Drill 4 x ø2.5mm (3/32″) holes in positions marked to depth of 25mm (1″)

CL400ZA945 02.2018



Tear on perforation to remove instructions from the template then follow the steps below or turn over for recessed striker

CL400 FLUSH STRIKER TEMPLATE

1. If closing jamb is RECESSED: cut template to width of recess in closing jamb. If closing jamb is FLAT: align centre line on template with centre of closing jamb
2. Align horizontal line on template with horizontal line on closing jamb
3. Mark hole positions for 4 x ø2.5mm (3/32″) holes
4. Using a sharp pencil, trace around stencil, keeping to outermost edge of slots. Remove template and complete rectangles
5. Router inner section to depth of 20.5mm (13/16″) from FACE of jamb
6. Router outer section to depth of 9.25mm (3/8″) from FACE of jamb
7. Drill 4 x ø2.5mm (3/32″) holes in positions marked to depth of 25mm (1″)