Step Vase, $196
Azurite

The Step Vase in Azurite along with several reintroduced tiles from our archives will feature this special commemorative stamp in honor of our 120th.

A black and white photograph of Mary Chase Perry Stratton, co-founder of Pewabic Pottery. She is shown from the waist up, wearing a light-colored lab coat over a dark dress. She is focused on her work, using a tool to shape a piece of pottery on a wheel. The background is filled with shelves of various pottery pieces, including bowls, vases, and tiles, creating a sense of a well-stocked studio.

HANDCRAFTED IN DETROIT SINCE 1903

Our Summer Collection is inspired by Pewabic's 120-year legacy of handcrafting ceramics in Detroit. Co-founder Mary Chase Perry Stratton was deeply passionate about developing new glazes — a tradition we proudly carry on to this day. The Step Vase in our newest iridescent glaze, Azurite, celebrates that legacy and this milestone anniversary. We hope these timeless pieces bring joy into your home.

Vases like these were popular during Pewabic's earliest years. Originally produced in flowing matte green and yellow glazes, these vases from our Heritage Collection are shown here in Birch.
