

2015 Adelaide Hills Arneis

Brand Philosophy : La Bise is French for the kiss and is the name given to a Southerly wind that blows over burgundy just before harvest so giving the vines the kiss of life. The best vintages of Burgundy are often attributed to a strong La Bise.

Wine Philosophy: the wines are about fruit and vineyard expression. We aim for for mouthfeel and drinkability without high alcohol. We pick early in the vineyard to give wines that are lower in alcohol by nature as we believe this gives better drinkability and longevity.

There is always something new happenning with our range of wines.

Adelaide Hills Arneis 2015

The La Bise Arneis is sourced from a single vineyard in the Kersbrook region of the Adelaide Hills. The vineyard is 11 years old and is now showing good maturity and evenness of crop. We pick the Arneis around 11.8 to 12.2 be when we see granny smith apple and elderberry flavours coming into the fruit.

In bottle the Arneis shows elderberry and nectarine fruit aromas and flavours. It's a fresh and lively style of wine with lower alcohol and a medium acid.

This variety is a cross between Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Gris
