GAUGE
16 sts and 20 brioche rnds = 4” in Brioche Pattern (see Notes).

NOTES
• When checking the gauge in Brioche Pattern, 2 rnds appear as 1 rnd. Count every 2 rnds as 1 rnd.
• Keep both colors attached throughout, holding each to the back of the work as you’re working with the other color.
• Markers are placed every 10 sts to easily identify where you are in the Brioche pattern. They are indicated on the chart by red vertical lines. It may be helpful to use 2 different color markers to easily tell the difference between the marker in the center of the repeat and the one at the end of each repeat.
• The blue lines on the chart indicate where there is a change from brk1 to brp1 stitches. If desired, place an optional marker to easily locate these places. Remember to move them to match their location on the chart.
