

Coffee Table Curator: October 2016

Art House, Assouline, 85 USD

Try not to be too jealous of these opulent living quarters. Art collector Chara Schreyer and interior designer Gary Hutton have been collaborating on homes for over forty years, and the five residencies depicted here are a result of that partnership; they contain some of the most masterful works of art in the world, including pieces by Marcel Duchamp, Andy Warhol, and Donald Judd, to name a select view. This volume beautifully features nearly all of the artworks from the homes, which could very well double as contemporary galleries at this point. Art and design go harmoniously together, after all.