MAY/JUNE 2006 THIRD ANNIVERSARY ISSUE

STREETWISE STREETWISE

"Furniture has to be a little less extravagant in San Francisco," says Robert Garcia, co-owner of the European antiques gallery Therien & Co. as well as their contemporary showroom, Gallery One. left: A Han dynasty vase is grouped with a burnished-silver lamp and an ash credenza from Gallery One's own line, Studio Workshops. The armchairs are from Gary Hutton Designs. below left: A pair of Louis XIII-style cast-stone dogs from Quatrain guard the staircase to the second floor. The gilt chandelier from Quatrain is hand-carved. below: Twisted topiaries mark the entrance to Benjamin Storck, a resource for twentieth-century decorative arts. bottom: A 1940s ceruse cabinet designed by Suzanne Guiguichon is next to a Samuel Marx parchment nightstand. A Robsjohn-Gibbings desk is in the foreground.
