FASHION RAISES FUNDS FOR RHINO EXTINCTION DOCUMENTARY

WRITTEN BY: KARA WETHINGTON
PHOTOGRAPHY: COURTESY OF CALLEEN CORDERO

On June 16th, Coco Eco partnered with designer Calleen Cordero to host a benefit for the upcoming rhino extinction documentary, The Price. Directed by Melinda MacInnis and Matt Fife, the film focuses on the plight of world rhinos, currently the most endangered large animal group on the planet due to an illegal demand for their horns.

Held at the Calleen Cordero boutique in West Hollywood, the event featured a silent auction with items donated by such eco-conscious designers and companies as Love Heals, Viola Living Jewels, Emily Factor, Sandast, Slane Jewelry, Colliote Canyon Retreat and more. Attendees included actress and animal activist Lisa Edelstein, artist Robert Russell, Barbara Kramer of Designers and Agents, designer Suss Cousins, and award-winning writer Lisa Teasley.
