A guided minute of silence from our favorite neighbor...

Mr. Rogers famously encouraged his friends to spend one minute in silence. This is what he might say if he was encouraging us today: "I'd like to give you an invisible gift. A gift of a silent minute to think about those who have helped you become who you are today. Some of them may be with you right now. Some may be far away. But wherever they are, if they've loved you, and encouraged you, and wanted what was best in life for you, they're right inside your self. And I feel that you deserve quiet time today to devote some thought to them. So, let's just take a minute, in honor of those that have cared about us all along the way. One silent minute..."

And after that minute of silence he might say this:

"Whomever you've been thinking about, imagine how grateful they must be, that during your silent times, you remember how important they are to you. It's not the honors and the prizes, and the fancy outsides of life which ultimately nourish our souls. It's the knowing that we can be trusted. That we never have to fear the truth. That the bedrock of our lives, from which we make our choices, is very good stuff."
